

GREAT BATTLE AT VLAKFONTEIN

Boers Under Gen. DeLearny Attack British Under Colonel Dickson.

HEAVY LOSS TO BOTH

British Killed and Wounded Number 175—Boers Number Only Thirty-Five.

BRITISH PUBLIC STIRRED UP

London, May 31.—The war office this morning announces a big battle at Vlakfontein in the extreme south of the Transvaal, sixty miles south-east of Johannesburg, between the Boers under DeLearny and the British under Col. Dickson.

Kitchener in a dispatch dated Pretoria at seven o'clock yesterday evening says the enemy were eventually driven off with heavy loss, leaving thirty-five dead on the ground.

"I regret to say that our casualties are also severe," says Kitchener. "The killed and wounded number 174 and among them are Lieuts. Hoke, Camlon, MacDonald and Capt. Armstrong killed."

Stirs Up British Public

London, May 31.—The South African casualty lists, which filled three columns of this morning's Times, recall forcibly to the unwilling British mind that the Boer war is still full of fiery action. These heavy losses in killed and wounded are chiefly the result of engagements that Lord Kitchener had not condoned previously to report, and they have let out a flood of indignant criticism, of which the anti-war party enjoys no monopoly.

Such staunch supporters of the government as the S. James Gazette and the Daily Mail join in protesting in vigorous language against this 'alarming policy of concealment.'

The evening papers teem with communications from all sorts of citizens, complaining in a similar strain. They assert that things have reached a pitiable point for old England when suppression must be invoked to distract attention from the endless unpleasantness in South Africa.

MRS. M'KINLEY IS IN NO DANGER

BITING WORDS BY MRS. CADY STANTON

Arraigns the Churches—She Demands Expurgated Bible in an Address at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, May 30.—Elizabeth Cady Stanton bitterly arraigned the Christian churches for their treatment of women in a paper read at the opening session of the National Woman's Suffrage association yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church. "The greatest block of today in the way of a woman's emancipation," she declared, "is the church the canon law, the Bible and the priesthood." She demands that an expurgated Bible be read in the churches and declares that such parables as refer to woman as "the author of sin," "an inferior," "a subject," "a weaker vessel," should be relegated to the ancient mythologies as mere allegories, having no application whatever to the women of this generation.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the president of the association, in her address referred militarism, immorality and inertia in the growth of the democracy as the three greatest obstacles in the way of woman's progress. The first she said was based on force vested in government for nations and the headship of families. The second was as old as the world. The third was due to the rapid enfranchisement of negroes, Indians, and foreigners, having made the people afraid of more enfranchisements.

Appointments of Superintendents of State Institutions and Their Employees Were Announced at Madison Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Madison, May 31.—The state board of control, just before concluding its monthly session yesterday, re-elected all but three of the superintendents of the state charitable and penal institutions. Action was postponed on the election of a successor to Supt. H. F. Bliss at the School for the Blind, Janesville; Supt. Swiler at the School for the Deaf, Delavan, and the superintendent of the reformatory at Green Bay.

The board also provided for the re-appointment of the stewards at the Northern hospital and Home for the Feeble-Minded, the general matrons of all the institutions, and all of the subordinates nominated by the superintendents. The salaries of all the officers will continue as now fixed, until changed by the board or other competent authority. All of the clerks in the office of the board were reappointed.

The Milwaukee Sentinel this morning has the following dispatch from Madison regarding the Swiler and Bliss appointments:

Swiler Probably Let Out

Judge W. P. Lyon, president of the state board of control last night declined to give any reason for the failure of the board to re-elect Superintendent J. W. Swiler of the Home for the Deaf at Delavan. All he would say was that the board believed it best to defer action on the matter until a latter date. Mr. Swiler has been the superintendent of the Dele-

MERRYMAKERS GO TO THEIR DEATH

Boat Containing Six Girls and Two Young Men Is Swept Over a Dam—Only One Is Saved.

Philadelphia, May 31.—A row boat containing a merry party of eight young persons was swept over Flat Rock dam in the Schuylkill river yesterday afternoon and seven of them—six girls and one boy—were drowned.

The victims, all of whom were Philadelphians, were: Mamie Connors, aged 17; Sallie Cantrell, 17; Mazie Kennedy, 18; Maud Rutter, 19; Mamie Sullivan, 21; Florence Bond, 21; Bertram Osmond, 19. The young man saved is John Moore, aged 21.

The party started out for a picnic early in the morning and pitched their camp at Rose Glen along the Schuylkill river. The party separated after dinner for a row on the river and those above mentioned decided to go in one boat. The boy doing the rowing decided to go through the locks and as he approached the dam he was hailed by the lock-keeper not to approach any further. The warning was not heeded and the young man kept on rowing until he found that the lock was closed. He attempted to turn the boat, but he turned the boat the wrong way. A moment later the boat was in the swiftly moving current.

Realizing then for the first time that they were in danger the girls began screaming and the oarsman lost control of the boat. Swiftly it was carried toward the brink of the falling waters, and just as it reached the breast of the dam over which thirty inches of water was passing, the entire eight stood up and the boat went over stern first.

The drop to the rocks below is approximately twelve feet. The boat struck the water bottom up and as it disappeared the whole party was under it. When the boat reappeared one boy was clinging to its keel. Then the other young man was seen to come to the surface and make a frantic effort to reach the shore by swimming. The six girls never rose to the surface.

WON'T DINE WITH HER SERVANT GIRL

Mrs. Sheldon Does Not Follow Her Husband's Teaching, and Loses Her Domestic.

Tokepa, Kan., May 31.—The wife of the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon does not follow the teachings of her husband in his story "Born to Serve," in which he declares that the domestic should have equal powers with the members of the family. Mr. Sheldon employed a servant and when the first meal under her supervision was ready, an extra plate was laid for her. Mrs. Sheldon objected and the young woman called her attention to her husband's story.

"I can't help that," said Mrs. Sheldon. "I did not write that book and besides the meal hour is our only time for private conversation."

The servant immediately resigned and left the Sheldon house.

M. B. Clark of the Rock River Creamery Co., left last evening for Chicago and Elgin to purchase new machinery for the butter processing plant which will be installed in the near future on Center avenue.

The unions will meet in the Assembly hall at 7:15, or as near that time as possible, and form so as to march at 7:30 headed by the band and carriage containing the speakers, marching west on Milwaukee street to Academy, countermarch east to Main, and south on Main to Park.

Fortunately he was caught before going far. One shaft in the buggy was broken and used up some. Miss Barker was badly frightened, but escaped being injured. A number of buggies standing in front of the livery prevented Mr. Wright from seeing the buggy until he smashed into it.

ACTION OF CUBA NOT SATISFACTORY

McKinley and His Advisors Will Refuse to Accept It.

ISLAND ASKS TOO MUCH

MUST BE NO EQUIVOCATION

Washington, May 31.—There is a serious hitch in the negotiations for the acceptance by Cuba of the conditions imposed upon the island by congress as a preliminary to actual independence. The reports given out from Havana all seemed to indicate that the constitutional convention had accepted the terms of the Platt amendments merely with some modifications which were in the nature of explanations. New light was thrown on the situation when Secretary Root received the text of this partial acceptance from General Wood. The secretary of war declines to discuss the situation; but it was learned from another source that there has been some secret action by the Cuban convention which is already giving the administration much concern. The matter was submitted to the president immediately after his arrival and is to be discussed at length by the cabinet. So far as can be learned the particular action of the Cuban convention to which the principal exception is taken, concerns the modifications made by the Cubans of the third clause of the Platt amendment, which is the paragraph relating to intervention by the United States. This is deemed to be possibly the most important feature of the Cuban policy of the United States. It is intimated by persons rather close to the administration that the draft of the action of the Cuban convention now in the hands of Secretary Root certainly will be rejected, on the ground that it is not in substantial harmony with the conditions imposed by congress. There seems no doubt on the part of the administration that the Cuban convention ultimately will do the right thing, but, it is said, the secret action of the convention thus far is not satisfactory, and it is believed Major-General Wood will be authorized tomorrow by the cabinet to inform the Cubans of this fact.

HOW O. H. FETHERS PLAYED POKER WITH A ROCKY MOUNTAIN MINER

Story of a Peculiar Game, Which Kept the Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias on the Anxious Seat Some Time.

When Ogden H. Fethers of Janesville, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, was in California several years ago, says the Milwaukee Sentinel, he and his wife were guests at the home of a wealthy mine owner, whose fondness for poker was a matter of common knowledge. It was therefore with some misgivings that Mrs. Fethers, warned by the bonanza king's wife, bade farewell to her husband as he and his host set out on a two days' trip to a neighboring mine.

"Promise you won't play cards, Ogden," she pleaded, and Ogden agreed to be cautious.

But alas for good intentions! For that very evening when comfortably settled with several others in a miner's shack, a poker game was proposed. There was no way of escape without appearing churlish, so the Wisconsin lawyer accepted the inevitable and took a hand, while the rich Californian acting as banker, distributed the chips about the board. The value of the chips was not stated, but the fact that "no limit" was announced did not serve to compose the apprehensive Janesvillian.

With fatal luck the Wisconsin man lost, and so did the proprietors of the shack, while the ranchman, true to his reputation, raked in the chips with regularity and zest. Fresh supplies of counters were secured from the banker who kept close record on his loans, and who, with unflinching good luck continued to win back the chips in surprisingly short time.

Mr. Fethers, uneasy at the outset, was before long in a cold perspiration. The stories of the mining man's fabulous winnings at the game came before his mind in a most unpleasant fashion. He wondered what the chips were worth, and mentally figured the extent of his losses first on the quarter basis, then a fifty-cent supposition, and finally on the dollar. At the very lowest guess of each chip's value his losses were well up into the hundreds. At a higher valuation during one stage of the play he calculated he was out just $10,000.

The situation was not pleasant, and Mr. Fethers was no "Riker" and he would not ask how the game stood until the finish.

And then the finish came. With a luck that couldn't be duplicated in fifty ordinary games, the stacks of the three opponents of the ranchman were corralled in a single pot; all were broke. Then came a moment of terrible suspense as the banker meditatively ran his fingers through a heap of red, blue and white discs before him. He paused for a moment. Then opening the drawer he swept the chips in, remarking:

"Well, boys, we have had just as much fun, as though we had been playing for money."

Mr. Fethers didn't collapse, but he could have without half trying. He said good-night and went to bed. And today he is fond of telling about "one of the greatest poker games ever played the other side of the Rockies."

tobacco planting more as an interesting experiment than as a serious occupation. They were laughed at. It was asserted that the weed would not grow in this climate. Neither the climate nor the land was adapted to it, the critics said. Later it was argued that it was a ruinous crop to grow because it exhausted the land and left it worthless. But from an experiment it became an industry, and it has thrived until it has reached proportions beyond the wildest dreams of the beginners.

"In time it was discovered that a very good article of tobacco could be grown in this state, and that growing it was profitable. One by one warehouses appeared and grew in size. Today the state is dotted with them, and every year they creep a little further north. The leaf is now grown as far north as Ashland county. Only twenty-five out of the seventy counties do not grow it in at least small quantities.

"Nearly all of the great tobacco dealers in the country maintain warehouses at the Wisconsin tobacco centers. Their buyers are constantly here and deals in the leaf now run up to hundreds of thousands of dollars in some instances. One made at Edgerton last week amounted to $350,000. The contemplation of such a sale would have made the pioneer growers wild with delight. If the scoffers are still alive they have food for thought.

"Most of the Wisconsin tobacco goes east. It is more even in quality than eastern tobacco and can be used in large quantities with less expense. Some of the most widely known and popular high grade cigars are made almost exclusively from Wisconsin tobacco."

Interest will be taken in an interview which a representative of the Milwaukee Sentinel had with Fred W. Coon of Edgerton, editor of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter, at Milwaukee yesterday. The Sentinel's story is that Mr. Coon says that:

"If the Milwaukee newspapers continue to talk about Wisconsin tobacco they will ruin the industry, because they will excite the farmers and induce a greater acreage that will give a supply far in excess of the demand.

"The papers are right in saying that tobacco growing has become a great industry," said Mr. Coon, "but if they encourage too much planting we will be obliged to give tobacco away. There is not an unlimited demand. We are growing about all that we can sell now. As a matter of fact a single township could grow as much tobacco as is now grown in the entire state and there is scarcely a county in the state where it cannot be grown. You can readily see that if the farmers generally should go into the business the supply would greatly exceed the demand. A few years ago we had that experience. Very high prices one year led to such an acreage the next year that we could scarcely give the tobacco away. If the industry increases gradually and naturally, the demand will keep pace with it and there will be no such difficulty."

Mr. Coon does not think that Madison is to become the great tobacco center of the state. Edgerton is still, ahead he says, and likely to remain ahead. Madison, he says, has been getting the advertising benefit of a number of sales that were really made in Edgerton. His city he says controls two-thirds of the business. Speaking of the recent $300,000 sale of Wisconsin tobacco, he said: "I notice that the sale is being written up extensively, and every time it appears in a new paper it grows a little. It has now reached $800,000 and I expect to see it $1,000,000 before the month is out."

A special dispatch bearing a Milwaukee date line says that a contract for the sale and purchase of tobacco enough to make 720,000,000 cigars has just been closed by the firm of L. Bamberger & Co. of Philadelphia. It involves $750,000 worth of Wisconsin leaf. This is the largest purchase of western tobacco ever made. It takes all the crops of 1,200 Wisconsin farms. The most of this stock is in warehouses at Stoughton and Madison.

Within the last year or two the tobacco acreage has been largely increased in Dane and Rock counties, and Madison has become mart where leaf is put up at auction as it is in Louisville.

An Oshkosh Man...

For months my liver, stomach and bowels were in very bad condition. My appetite failed, my skin turned yellow, I suffered from indigestion, lost flesh rapidly and was obliged to leave work. I had no movement of the bowels for months except through the use of warm water injections. Doctors could give me no relief. A friend recommended "Quaker Tonic" and I began taking it. Its action in my case has been truly wonderful. Two weeks' treatment got me back to work and six weeks' treatment has made me a perfectly well man. Several friends to whom I have recommended "Quaker Tonic" are using it with the same result. Its curative power is certainly astonishing. C. C. COVEY, 330 Main Street, Oshkosh, Wis. Quaker Tonic Tablets are for sale at all druggists. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes $2.50. If your druggist don't sell them write Penn Drug Co., Oshkosh, Wis., for free sample.

THERE IS BLOOD ON FACE OF THE MOON

Commercial Travelers of Madison Will Play Their Janesville Brethren at Athletic Park Tomorrow.

"Unless the skies fall or some other unforeseen event happens, the Bower City traveling men who have the audacity to stand up and play ball with Capital City Council No. 126, of the United Commercial Travelers will exist only in memory, for the plan is to stop short of nothing less than annihilation." Thus quoths the Madison Democrat.

The game is to be played in Janesville tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the Madison champions, accompanied by a big delegation of routes and supporters will arrive over the Northwestern road tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The Democrat article goes on to say: "There have been secret convales and hours of solid practice that have brought curves and strikes into play that the audacious commercial fellows of the Rock River town never dreamed of. As the result of all this an aggregation will invade the Bower City tomorrow every man of which is a baseball expert, determined to come home victorious or die in the attempt. In case the picked nine become disabled the battery can be replenished from the rank and file at a moment's notice. As near as can be learned the lineup will be constituted from the following specialists: E. E. Heath, J. B. Veitch, E. J. Muzzy, W. E. Flynn, F. J. Weiss, H. T. Stewart, Frank Mosel, H. O. Teckmeyer, J. C. Brader."

The Janesville team has not yet been lined up but there is no doubt but what a nine can be selected that will take the starch out of these bragging Madison drummers. In this connection the following appeal has been issued:

"Members of Janesville Council, will you stand this insult? Come out and help us."

JOHN C. SPENCER, Chief of Fire Dept. Janesville, Wis., May 31 1901.

It is very convenient to attribute the disasters which overtake us to fate. But for the most part man is the arbiter of his own fortunes. Business men are struck down suddenly as by lightning. The verdict is generally "heart failure."

It was fate for him to meet this end. But if we went behind the "weak" heart we should find a "weak" stomach, probably, and back of the weak stomach is careless eating at irregular hours.

When the stomach is diseased the organs depending on the stomach for nutrition are starved. Starvation means weakness of the body and its organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these organs are cured, diseases of heart, liver, lungs and kidneys, caused by the diseased stomach, are cured also.

"In the fall of 1897 I was taken with smothering spells, palpitation of the heart, and a distressed feeling in my stomach," writes Mr. H. W. Kinney, of Knight, Doddridge Co., West Va. "I consulted a doctor and he said I had organic heart trouble. He gave me some medicine, but it did me no good. I then tried different kinds of patent medicines, but they only helped me a little. I then sent and got five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before the first bottle was gone I felt a change. When the five bottles were gone I began to work. I had not worked any for a year before."

"I am well and can eat anything now with the exception of pork and greasy food."

BELOIT MOVED UP TO JANESVILLE; ROOTERS SWARMED OVER CITY

Yelled Themselves Hoarse to See Their Club Walk All Over the Boys from Madison—Score Stood Beloit, 10; Madison, 1—Adkins a Wonder.

All Beloit moved up to Janesville yesterday. The town moved up to see its nine sturdy idols walk all over Phil King's base ball boys from the University of Wisconsin. The happy crowd was made up of gray haired men and matrons, young men and fair maidens with quite a sprinkling of children. All wore gay streamers of yellow and all brought the strongest pair of lungs. A brass band accompanied the delegation to be ready to fill in if the noise of the rooters should give out.

A special excursion train was run from Beloit and it alone brought 650 base ball enthusiasts from the Line City. Many came on other trains and large delegations made the trip overland in carriages. Nearly all of the carriages at the game were decked in yellow.

The beautiful cardinal of the university was conspicuous for its absence. The big delegation of students which Madison promised to send down was evidently late for the train. Very probably they foresaw the result of the game and preferred to learn of their defeat in the seclusion of the capital city, rather than have it "rubbed in" by the cheering, jeering supporters of the little college which the large universities of the middle west affect to despise, but whose base ball team has the best record of them all.

By the winning of yesterday's game Beloit has an average of .833, having won ten games and lost two. The university of Michigan ranks next with an average of .700, seven games won and three lost. The average of Wisconsin's team is .500, the team having won five and lost five games. Of the five defeats, four have been administered by Beloit college and one by the university of Michigan. Beloit has two more games to play and Michigan has three and the supporters of the gold enthusiastically claim first place for Beloit. If their team loses one game and Michigan wins three Beloit will still be ahead.

While the Beloit delegation came prepared to cheer its team on to victory, there was not much call for them to use their voices. There were no Madison rooters to enter into a contest of lungs and the game was so one-sided and devoid of sensational plays that even Beloit enthusiasm, which is always on tap was squelched into comparative silence. The sport with the paper money in his fist, who was ready and anxious to bet on any sort of a proposition, created more excitement than the game.

The score was ten to one. Adkins struck out ten men; Erickson, the university pitcher, two; Adkins made every man pay his way to first base, except Matthews, who was hit with a pitched ball and Erickson gave ten free passes. Pierce, the university catcher, had four passed balls, which were costly. Beloit made two errors, but neither netted the other side a run. The Beloit batters gathered in twelve hits, Morey rapping out a two-bagger. The boys from Madison took five hits, Erickson making a two base hit.

The score tells the story of the game although both sides did some good fielding and when the chilly weather and drizzling rain is considered it is remarkable that more errors were not made. Adkins, who is in his best form in hot weather, had to keep at work on the side all the time he was not in the box in order to keep warmed up. A Merrill was behind the batsmen and caught Adkins' elusive curves in good style. Tyndall of Chicago umpired the game. The attendance was about 1,200 not as large as last year's game when Madison as well as Beloit was well represented.

Leaf Tobacco Market

The cold weather of the past week has scarcely been conducive to the growth of vegetation and the tobacco plants have made but little progress. The heavy frost of last Saturday night did little aggregate damage although the loss in some individual cases was quite heavy. Most of the plants were so small that the radiation of heat from the earth prevented serious damage. The plants which suffered most harm were those on low ground.

The buying of 1900 leaf still continues although the remnants are now so scarce and so scattering that considerable riding has to be done to secure much tobacco.

Samuel Grundy's agent in Middleton, O., is purchasing considerable Ohio tobacco of the 1900 crop. Greater and more general interest is being taken in the tobacco business in the state this year than ever before. It is but the natural result of the growth in importance of the industry. Concerning Wisconsin tobacco, the Milwaukee Sentinel, of a few days ago contained an editorial which gives something of the history of the industry. The writer in the Sentinel says:

"Word comes from Madison that the capital city is soon to have a public market for the sale of tobacco, which will be the first one of its kind in the north. Coupled with the announcement is the statement that this year Dane county will rise to the dignity of being the greatest tobacco growing county in the United States. These facts emphasize the wonderful growth of this industry in this state.

"But a few years ago a handful of men in Southern Wisconsin began to

MARRIED MEN WON DECISIVE VICTORY

MATCH GAME AT BUCKLETON LINKS OPENING SEASON.

The Smississippi Golf Club Serves a Supper and Gives a Dance, Both of Which Were Much Enjoyed by a Large Crowd of Members and Invited Guests.

The married men showed the younger members of the Smississippi Golf club yesterday afternoon, that, although they were married and had numerous family cares, they could still forget them long enough to show the boys how this ancient and honorable game should be played.

The early part of the afternoon bid fair for a warm and sunny time but about three o'clock a drizzling rain set in which, although it kept many visitors away, did not dampen the ardor of the golf players.

Seventeen pairs started out to decide the supremacy between the married and single men and although the majority of the teams played a close match, too many twelve and fifteen down were turned over to official scorer Pierce to allow the single men to win. The score was as follows:

The real opening of the golf season took place after the match was finished and the players and visitors adjourned to the club house where an excellent supper was served under the supervision of Mrs. Harry McNamara and Misses Agnes Shumway, Ruth Culver and Helen Nash. At first the young ladies were in despair for fear that they were not going to have many to supper, but a little later they were wondering where to get enough from to feed the number of people that poured in upon them. Supper was served to about one hundred and sixty people and too much praise cannot be given to the young ladies and their gentlemen friends, who assisted them in serving, for the way everything went off.

After the supper was finished Prof. John Smith and his musicians appeared and from then until eleven o'clock the evening was given up to the pleasure of dancing on the smoothly waxed floor of the club house.

The main room had been handsomely decorated by the house committee. Bunches of flowers ornamented the windows and the band stand had been draped with the club colors of blue and gold. It was a highly satisfactory opening and augurs well for the other social events that will take place on the grounds during the coming season.

Although the married won yesterday they will soon have another chance to show what they can do. The players will be more evenly matched in the next contest. Albert Schaller's score of eighty-nine for the eighteen holes is the best of the season. If he keeps up the gait that he is now playing he will make some of the cracks that will be here at the state tournament play a fast game to carry off the cup.

The next match will probably be for the Richardson medal now held by Albert Schaller.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Theories About Food

Also A Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods, foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the large cities where no meat, poultry or coffee is served and the food cranks in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to cornucopia. A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grains.

Dr. Julius Remington on this subject says: Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too weak at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of material, and no matter how weak the stomach may be no trouble will be experienced. If a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless, digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for indigestion as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of the food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the problem and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50c for full treatment.

SIMPLY POLITICS

In another column will be noticed a statement concerning the State School for the Blind, and the change of administration anticipated. The reason given by the president of the State Board of Control for the proposed change, is plausible, and will doubtless satisfy the professional educators, yet it is well-known to the board, as well as to the people who are familiar with the institution, that the blind, if to be made self helpful, need an education that is intensely practical.

The weakness of the school today, like all others of its class, is in the fact that the course of instruction is too largely devoted to accomplishment and adornment at the expense of the more practical. This is due very largely to a false sentiment concerning the education of the blind.

The present incumbent is not a "trained educator" from a college standpoint and has nothing to offer save a record covering a period of six years, that the "trained educator" will doubtless condemn on investigation. The blind of the state as well as others familiar with the work may be more charitable.

There is neither sentiment or sympathy in politics and the man who takes a hand in the game never wastes any time in looking for either.

The proposed change at the State School for the Blind is a case of politics pure and simple, and the state board of control is not accountable for it. Their judgment and inclination neither approves nor prompts it. They have been in hearty sympathy with the work and the methods of the present administration which has frequently received their most cordial endorsement.

But the board is the servant of the governor, standing closer to him than any organization in the state, and as such its members would be disloyal if they failed to carry out his wishes.

Looking at the matter from a purely political standpoint the attitude of the governor is perfectly natural. He feels that he wants men under him who are in sympathy with his plans and methods and he regards the superintendent at Janesville as antagonistic to him, largely on account of the paper with which he is connected. He has never met the man, but has seen the paper.

The "trained educator" proposition is too transparent to deceive anyone and even the blind regard it as a joke.

It is simply a game of politics in which the longest hand wins. The governor holds the hand. "Shake."

THE NEW CIVILIZATION.

Whether the "constitution follows the flag" or not, it is no longer an open question, that the Stars and Stripes are the emblem of freedom and civilization, wherever permanently unfurled.

This fact is being demonstrated just now in the Philippine Islands, where the American schoolhouse is being dedicated as the advance guard of progress and enlightenment.

The government is hurrying forward, under Judge Taft's direction, six hundred American school teachers, and about half the required number will sail from San Francisco on the Transport Sheridan this week.

This philanthropic work is being done so quietly, that it excites but little attention, and yet it is so commendable that it is worthy of more than passing notice. It is not the work of individuals, prompted by a spirit of love for humanity, neither is it the work of a religious organization seeking to strengthen its ranks, and extend the gospel of peace, but it is the work of a strong and vigorous nation, so thoroughly permeated with Christian principles, that its first thought, is to carry to the ignorant that have come to us as the proteges of war, the blessings of civilization.

While the church universal, resting on Christianity as a firm foundation, is the motive power that prompts and moves all philanthropic enterprises, yet it is true that the work of establishing American schools under the supervision and erection of the nation is more important than the work of any individual church. As a result of intelligence developed by enlightenment, Christianity will reap an abundant harvest, because the two go hand in hand, when marching under the American banner.

The fulfillment of prophecy is seldom startling, but it is going on all the time, and people who are observing, and who may have the privilege of living twenty-five years from today will enjoy the pleasure of pointing to the Philippine Islands, and looking back to that May morning when Dewey's guns awakened the world with no uncertain sound, and then recalling the vision of the old prophet, they will be reminded of the fact, that "a nation has been born in a day."

The fight in the courts between Mrs. Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, and Mrs. Woodbury, a former intimate friend and disciple, will be watched with interest. Mrs. Woodbury, who is now without the fold, asks Mrs. Eddy for $150,000, for defamation of character. The new faith is said to have a million converts and the most of them are intelligent people. They may be deluded, but they seem satisfied with the delusion. The libel suit will be a good advertiser.

Charity covers a multitude of sins, and is always lenient with weakness and fanaticism, but there is a limit, where simple justice represents the broader charity. Alexander Dowie appears to have reached the limit, and sensible people everywhere will rejoice. With the courts against him the score will be long enough to occupy his time for an indefinite period. "Zion" may miss him but it will be a good loss.

The senatorial fight in South Carolina promises to be full of interest. Tillman wants a special election and a short campaign in the heat of summer, while McLaurin advises nothing until fall. It is to be hoped that the state will honor herself by electing McLaurin. It is high time that statesmen of the Tillman type were retired from public life.

The Waupun convict "Stokes," who has just inherited $50,000, can afford to reform and be honest for the rest of his natural life. He still has two years to serve, which will give him ample time to plan how to be good on his income.

The opposition will probably make out that the president is a Sabbath breaker, because he was so anxious to get a sick wife home, as to travel on Sunday. It is wonderful what small straws our foes will grab when nothing bigger comes to hand.

The romance connected with the Unger murder trial, reads like a dime novel, with the doctor as the hero. The network of evidence indicates that he will have leisure to write his own history at Joliet.

A Paris dentist claims to have discovered that music will stop toothache. Our experience has been that the sight of a dentist's door sign will effectually stop the pain.

Wouldn't it be a joke of the governor of South Carolina should appoint two senators instead of calling a special session of the legislature?

Prof. Starr of Chicago University, can safely place in his list of degenerates those who part their hair in the middle, as he is bald.

The business of founding religions is remunerative. Dr. Dowle and Mrs. Baker have both passed the million mark.

It is unfortunate for the Sultan that apologies are not legal tender.

PAIR OF BAY HORSES STOLEN LAST NIGHT

THIEF ENTERS BARN OF H. L. TRIPP, ON AFTON ROAD.

The Team, Driven by One Man, Came Through This City About Three O'clock This Morning, and Was Going Towards Evansville—Sheriff is in Pursuit.

Some time during last night thieves entered the barn of H. L. Tripp on the Afton road and got away with a pair of bay horses, a fairly good harness and an old three spring platform wagon.

The wagon was very old and would not stand a very long trip. One of the wheels was badly sprung making a track that was easy to follow.

The team driven by one man came through this city about three o'clock this morning and was seen by several people. The last trace of it was about four o'clock this morning when it was seen on the Evansville road. Mr. Tripp discovered his loss and at once notified Sheriff Malpress, who with Under Sheriff Cochran started out looking for clues. They soon discovered that the outfit had been seen in this city going towards Evansville. Sheriff Malpress went out by the way of Leyden but found no trace of them in that neighborhood.

Tripp and Carter went out by the way of Center and found that the man had driven along that way about four o'clock in the morning they kept on out that way and hope to overtake the man somewhere near Evansville.

Mr. Tripp's house is at the corner of the Afton road and a road that runs west towards Hanover. The barn fronts on the west road a little distance in the rear of the house so that the man could get into the barn without going through the yard. It offered a good chance for any one to get in and out of barn without disturbing the family.

Messages have been sent to all of the surrounding towns describing the outfit and it is thought that the man will soon be caught.

Under Sheriff and Mr. Tripp returned home this afternoon without getting any trace of the stolen team. They think that he must have gone in some other direction than towards Evansville.

MOURN THE DEATH OF ELIZABETH HILT

DIED EARLY THIS MORNING AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Came to Rock County With Her Husband From Philadelphia, March 17, 1855—Funeral Services From the Home Next Monday at 2:30 in the Afternoon.

After an illness of several months' duration, Mrs. Elizabeth Hilt, the beloved wife of Benjamin R. Hilt, passed over death's river this morning at ten minutes before eight o'clock.

Elizabeth Sexton was born in Philadelphia, Pa., April 4, 1829 and was thus 72 years of age. On the 28th day of March 1849 she was married to B. R. Hilt at Philadelphia and March 17, 1855 Mr. and Mrs. Hilt came to this city where they have resided ever since.

Two years ago their golden wedding was happily celebrated, the local Masonic orders, Odd Fellows and the Grand Army with their auxiliary societies giving a large party in their honor at Masonic hall.

Mrs. Hilt was one of the best known women in the city, and her most prominent characteristic was her intense patriotism. Throughout the civil war, when her husband was at the front, she supported herself and her little ones and her loyalty and love of country sent many a necessary to the army. Until her death her great delight was in honoring and in seeing other people honor the veterans of the Grand Army.

She was one of the charter members of the W. H. Sargent Woman's Relief Corps No. 21 and one of its most active and untiring workers.

Mrs. Hilt was also a member of Janesville chapter No. 169, Order of Eastern Star and of Janesville Lodge No. 171 Daughters of Rebekah.

She was the mother of eight children, three of whom died in infancy. The five who survive are one son, B. R. Hilt, Jr., of Chicago and four daughters, Mrs. G. M. Ratcliffe of Milwaukee, Mrs. Robert Deubler and Mrs. Emma Lancaster of Chicago and Mrs. Fannie Gravlyn of St. Paul. A grand daughter, Miss Libby Gravlyn, was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Hilt and made her home with them during her last illness.

One sister Mrs. Matilda Zell and one brother, William Sexton, both of Philadelphia, also survive, and her death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held from her home, 90 Western avenue, on Monday afternoon at 2:03 o'clock. The Daughters of the Rebekah will have charge of the funeral.

Attention, W. R. C.
There will be a special meeting of W. H. Sargent Post W. R. C. tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock to make arrangements for attending the funeral of Mrs. B. F. Hilt. Mrs. Wisner, Pres.; Mrs. Victoria Potter, Sec'y.

FORMALLY PRESENT
DENISON MEDALS

At the Same Time the Preacher Gave the Students a Short Talk on Athletics.

The formal presentation of the medals offered by the Rev. R. C. Denison and won by Will Ryan, Ross Bump, Arthur Ryan and Herbert Goldin, took place at the High school building this morning as a part of the opening exercises.

In connection with the formal announcement of the winners Rev. Denison gave the students a short talk on athletics, making a plea for pure sport. He said that people are interested in athletics because they can be made pure sport. One of the arts of life is the art of fun, of relaxation. Athletics afford opportunity for pure amusement unless mixed up with gambling.

The men who gamble on athletic games are not the athletes, but the men who smoke cigarettes, and stand on the side lines. They are out of harmony with athletic principles. The athlete knows that he never wins by speculation but by hard work. It is necessary to keep sports pure.

The purpose of athletics is to build up the body for future use in life's higher activities. A healthy body enables any one to do more in art and science and the athlete who permits a man with a weakly body to live a higher and better life than he does has lost the worth of training. Athletic training is not for itself but for the use that is made of it.

Rev. Denison announced that next year he expected to give a large silver cup for annual competition in field and track events by the four classes. It is to remain in the High school and each year there will be engraved on it the name of the class which scores the highest number of points in the contest and the name of any athlete who equals or breaks a high school record.

Rev. Denison's remarks and announcement were loudly applauded and the students seemed in hearty accord with his plea for pure sport.

Saturday. You have your choice of any pair of tan shoes at $2.69 per pair. Shoes that are worth $3.50 and $4 are included. Both ladies' and gents'. Don't forget the day. Amos Rehberg & Co.

MACHINE COMPANY MAY MOVE AWAY

Rockford Is After the Rock River Machine Company Located on North Main Street.

Present indications are that Janesville is liable to lose one of her leading manufacturing plants. Rockford parties have made a most tempting offer to the Rock River Machine Company to remove to that city. P. G. Strickler will leave for the Forest City next Monday. The Rock River Machine Company, whose plant is located on North Main street is a concern that the citizens of Janesville may well feel proud of. Twenty-five men are now employed thirteen hours per day. A small fortune has been invested of late in machinery which includes the installing of a 12,000 pound iron planer. Three smaller planers have also been added. The Rock River company are now manufacturing emery grinders, iron punches, and shears, as well as the old famous Strickler hay carriers.

P. G. Strickler, who has just returned from a trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis and as far east as New York state reports a flourishing business. The Rock River company need more room and their intention is to erect new model buildings. If they fail to find a suitable location here they may accept the Rockford offer. With new buildings the force would be doubled. Janesville citizens can not afford to lose this thriving industry and steps should be taken to retain it here.

APPLEBY IS AFTER BLOOMINGTON RED

Beloit Marshal Thinks He Has Evidence Enough to Convict the Silk Thief.

Marshal Appleby received a telegram that he has been anxiously awaiting for several weeks. It was from Sheriff Roth at Quincy and advised the chief that "Bloomington Red" would come to trial Friday for a silk robbery in that city. The inside facts of the case are that the notorious thief stands a good chance of getting off scot free at Quincy and Marshal Appleby goes armed with a requisition from Gov. LaFollette and warrant for his arrest on the charge of burglarizing the store of Bort, Bailey & Co. in this city a short time ago.

The marshal has enough evidence to convict "Red" beyond a shadow of a doubt if he gets him.

"Bloomington Red" was the ring leader of a gang of silk thieves who operated in five states and who are known to have stolen over $70,000 worth of silks. Marshal Appleby has been instrumental in breaking up this gang and has been hot after all of them ever since their Beloit operation. He has gone to a great deal of expense, which he bears individually, and deserves great credit for the part he has taken in ridding the country of the gang, considering the obstacles that have been constantly thrown in his way. The marshal has his heart set on coming back to Beloit, with the notorious criminal in tow, and those who are acquainted with the inside history of the case hope he will be successful, for the honor undoubtedly belongs to him.—Beloit Free Press.

Kills Brother in a Duel.
Memphis, Tenn., May 31.—William Wooten is in a coffin at his home and his brother Jesse on a cot in a city hospital, hovering between life and death, as the result of a sensational pistol duel on one of the crowded streets of the city, just after the Confederate Veterans' parade. For three minutes the men fought desperately, when William Wooten fell dead on the pavement at the feet of Jesse's wife, who tried in vain to prevent the tragedy.

Jump from Burning Launch.
New York, May 31.—Fire and water threatened Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ruddman of Great Neck, L. I., when their new naphtha launch, the Waukegan, exploded and burned to the water line. Fleeing from the fire, which already had seized upon their clothing, husband and wife jumped into the sound and managed to keep up until a man in a rowboat, who had seen the disaster half a mile away, rescued them.

Woman Suffragists Meet.

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

Nothing so quickly or surely restores lost strength and vitality to the blood as S. S. S. It is an antidote for the severest forms of Blood Poison, as well as the irritating humors that cause the eruptions and sores that sap your very life and so greatly disfigure you. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other hurtful drug. It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. At the same time your general health improves under the tonic effects of S. S. S., and the skin becomes soft, smooth and healthy. If you are troubled with boils, carbuncles, sores or eruptions of any sort, write our physicians all about your case; don't risk your own judgment when you can get medical advice from experienced doctors free. SPLENDID LECTURE TO ART LEAGUE

Rev. R. C. Denison Gives the Closing
Talk of the Year for the Art Department.

Members of the Janesville Art League were the guests of Miss Ida Harris this afternoon at a delightful lecture given by Rev. R. C. Denison in the parlors of the Congregational church. It was the closing meeting of the year for the art department of the league and was a very pleasant and appropriate climax to the season's study.

The Art League has been studying the art and history of Florence and Rev. Denison spoke on "The Florence of Today." The lecture was splendidly illustrated with about thirty stereopticon views, many of the pictures have been taken by Rev. Denison when he was in Florence.

Rev. Denison spoke of the general characteristics of Florence as a city. It is a city to be remembered because of its fierce struggles, of the part which it has played in the development of freedom and Italian liberty and because of the art which has developed amid these scenes of strife and turmoil. Many pictures were shown of monuments which represent the city's characteristics, its struggles and its art. Among the views shown was one of the cathedral and one of the public square where all of the historic public meetings were held and which is at present a business square, devoted to art as a trade. In the midst of all the historic interest the Italian feels humiliated to have Florence remembered only for its past history. There is a distinctly new and progressive spirit in the Florence of today. A few glimpses of the art of Florence were given, including views of several famous paintings and statues. Rev. Denison spoke briefly of the vastness of the art and then referred to Dante and Savonarola giving the relation which both bore to Italian liberty.

He then told in an entertaining way of some of the things which had interested him in the modern life of the city. The people are light hearted and modern Florence, like Vienna, is trying to be a little French and is copying France in many things. While the new life is interesting because it is human it is old Florence which means the most to the world.

The lecture and the illustrations were very interesting and both Rev. Denison and Miss Harris were warmly thanked for the pleasure by the many who enjoyed it.
